Subsequently, she began teaching in 1995. She enjoyed teaching business education to countless students at Hoxie High School for 28 years. As a teacher, she loved working with the administration, teachers, and staff to give students the best possible education, and many students benefitted from Darlene’s dedication. Darlene was passionate about equipping students for future employment, and she strove to help them succeed by introducing the newest technologies and information. She was an innovative and creative educator, implementing nontraditional seating in the classroom and becoming one of the first to teach students about medical office procedures and administration. She also served as the yearbook advisor and dedicated countless hours to selecting and training students to serve as yearbook staff members.

“ Bob and I would like to let Ronnie and family know how much we enjoyed being in church with Darlene. She was very smart. When Jeff and Bobby was around she always noticed them and was always very kind. She would always want to hold Jeff he was a baby but very large. He always looked like he was more like a year old because of his size. She was 8 years old when Jeff was born. We hadn't seen her in a long time. May the Lord wrap his arms around your family and care for you as she will be watching over you. Love, Bob and Connie.

“ This lady had so much patience with me about a computer and all the things that it could do. I know she had that patience with everybody. She was so gifted and she is so missed by all of Hoxie School and community and those kids
There wasn't a time when you asked her to do something that she said she didn't have time or that she couldn't.
God bless her family and God bless all those people that I know will miss her terribly.
