“ As many will tell you all over the next few days, Robin was a great man and was our beloved co-worker at Southworth. His work ethic and quiet but powerful impact on our shop floor will not soon be forgotten and will be nearly impossibly to replace. We can put bodies in spots but we can't create employees/men of the caliber Robin brought to us. We will all miss him dearly and, if nothing else, can find peace in the shortness of his struggle. Hopefully, we can all be thankful that our God took Robin home rather than extend his suffering from his devastating illness. We extend our offer of prayers and comforts to his family, friends and any that knew him. Such a tragic loss. How fortunate we all were to have known him.
